

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

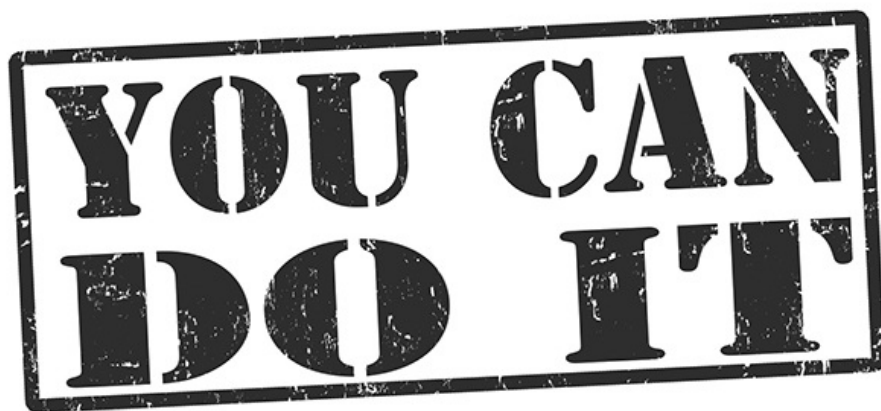

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Happy customers are returning customers! Let's work hard to make it happen!

Learning Outcome

Identify and provide solutions to problems in a range of social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- How would you describe the way you work or study?
- Are you hard-working? Serious? Fun?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about customer service.
- I can offer advice and solutions.
- I can talk about how something happens or how someone behaves.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa worries about the fallout from yesterday's miscommunication problem.

* "Fallout" means the negative effects or results of a situation.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Good job today, Sarah. You handled that vegetarian customer nicely.
Sarah: Thanks! I exaggerated our chef's persona a little. I hope he won't mind.
Vanessa: Oh, don't worry about that! Our chef knows he is intimidating and he works hard to keep that impression. Anyway, I liked how you patiently went through the menu with our clients yesterday. I also noticed that you dealt with unusual requests calmly.
Sarah: It also helped that no one was shouting angrily yesterday!
Vanessa: That's true. I love it when everybody gets along. It makes my job as a manager much easier.
Sarah: By the way, what about that angry customer the other day?
Vanessa: I invited him to come back for a free meal. I'd rather resolve the issue quietly before he writes a complaint about our miscommunication problem. Do you think he would do that?
Sarah: Yes, sadly. We might want to have a look at the paper soon. Something tells me we're in for a harsh review.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa is happy about Sarah's work. Let's hope the customers were happy too!

Instructions: Match the sentence on column A with a sentence in column B. Using the sentences, model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

COLUMN A

1. You handled
2. The waitress patiently went through
3. It makes my job
4. I'd rather resolve
5. Something tells me

COLUMN B

- a. the menu with the clients yesterday.
- b. that issue quietly before the customer writes a complaint.
- c. we're in for a harsh review.
- d. that diabetic customer nicely.
- e. as an administrator much easier.

Let's Practice!

What about the other angry customers?

Instructions: Read the sentences carefully. Circle the incorrect word. Write the correct word on the right. Using the sentences, model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

1. You might want to be less intimating in front of the customers.
2. I'd rather now that everybody gets along in my restaurant.
3. We ought to meal with difficult customers a little better.
4. I'd hope to avoid customer complaints.

Extension Activity

Let's play a game talking about your favorite character's behavior!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of your favorite character (from a book, a movie ...)
- Describe the character's behavior. How does he or she behave?
- What happens in the story? How does it happen?
- Use 6 clues. Remember to use adverbs of manner.
- Try to guess your partner's character!

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about how things happen.

☐
☐

I talk about how someone behaves.

☐
☐

I play a game with my partner.

☐
☐

Target Words

- nicely (adverb): in a pleasant manner
e.g. You handled that customer nicely yesterday.
- angrily (adverb): in an angry manner
e.g. No one was shouting angrily yesterday!
- quietly (adverb): in a quiet manner
e.g. I'd rather resolve that issue quietly.
- intimidating (adjective): inspiring awe and fear
e.g. Our chef knows that he is intimidating.
- to get along (verb): to be on friendly terms with someone e.g. I love it when everybody gets along.
- miscommunication (noun): failure to communicate adequately
e.g. I hope he doesn't write a complaint about our miscommunication problem.
- harsh (adjective): rough; severe
e.g. I hope we won't get a harsh review!

Learning Points

Offering Advice and Solutions

You use some expressions such as "would rather ('d rather)" or "might want to" to express what someone wants or also to advice politely what to do in a particular situation.

Remember would rather + base form of a verb.

Correct: I would rather have the vegan burger.

Incorrect: I would rather to have the vegan burger.

Examples:

- You're right. I'd rather have a free meal next time!
- You might want to resolve that issue quietly.

Learning Points

Adverbs of Manner

You use adverbs of manner to describe how something is done.

Example: She walked slowly.

How did she walk? Slowly.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to an adjective:

Examples: sad - sadly, curious - curiously

You take out the letter -y and add -ily to adjectives ending in -y.

Example: angry - angrily

The adjectives fast, hard, well and straight are exceptions. They do not change when they become adverbs.

Adjective	Adverb
nice	nicely
quiet	quietly
angry	angrily
harsh	harshly
patient	patiently
calm	calmly
hard	hard
unusual	unusually

Examples:

- You handled that customer nicely.
- No one was shouting angrily yesterday.
- Our chef works hard to keep that impression.

