Let's Start!

Healthy mind, healthy body: the key to a healthy lifestyle!

Learning Outcome

Identify and provide solutions to problems in a range of social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- How many hours of free time do you have every day?
- What do you do in your free time?
- Do you find time to relax in the evening?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about healthy habits at work.
- I can express what is necessary.
- I can talk about how something happens or how someone behaves.

Let's Explore!

Chef Bruce has a secret recipe to keep calm at work.

* A "secret recipe" is an effective trick or method that nobody else knows about.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Chef Bruce: You look more relaxed today, Vanessa. What happened?
Vanessa: I started following your advice about taking things lightly. It's working well!
Chef Bruce: I'm glad to hear that you found a way to de-stress!
Vanessa: Yes, me too. I also joined a Brazilian jiu-jitsu class!
Chef Bruce: Awesome! I love BJJ! I practice twice a week. It helps me stay focused on the job. I think it's important to keep a healthy work-life balance.
Vanessa: Yes. I need more time for physical activity. I started behaving differently. I'm less anxious about difficult customers now. I also fall asleep like a baby.
Chef Bruce: Yeah. You should get at least 8 hours of sleep every night.
Vanessa: 8 hours? I didn't think you were that kind of guy!
Chef Bruce: I work long hours. I'm too tired to party after my shift ends. I'd much rather go home and sit quietly with a book!
Vanessa: You're right. I ought to read more too. You really are a man of many talents!

Let's Practice!

Things are looking up for Vanessa!

Instructions: Match each sentence on column A with a sentence in column B.

COLUMN A

1. I started following
2. I also joined a
3. It helps me

e.g. I love Brazilian jiu jitsu. It helps me work better.
- focused (adjective): able to concentrate on a task
Example: BJJ helps me stay focused at work.
- work-life balance (noun): the importance you put on work compared to other things, like family and friends
e.g. It's important to keep a healthy work-life balance.
- differently (adverb): in a different manner
e.g. I started behaving differently. I'm less anxious now!

Learning Points

Expressing What is Necessary

You use modals like should and must or expressions like You have got to ... or You are going to have to ... to express what is necessary.

You can use the following to express what is necessary:

- You had better ...
- You have got to ...
- I'm going to have to ...
- You must ...
- You need to ...
- You should ...
- You might want to ...
- You ought to ...

Remember that should, ought to and might want to ... imply milder necessity, while must, have got to ... and had better ... imply stronger necessity.

Examples:

- Manager: You should get more sleep.
- Waiter: You're right. I also ought to exercise more.
- Manager: You might want to join a BJJ class!

Learning Points

Adverbs of Manner

You use adverbs of manner to describe how something is done. They give more specific information about the verb.

Example: She walked slowly.

How did she walk? Slowly.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to adjective:

Examples: sad - sadly, curious - curiously

Some adverbs are formed by adding -ily to adjectives ending in -y:

Example: angry - angrily

The adverbs fast, hard, well and straight are exceptions. They do not change when they become adverbs.

Adjective	Adverb
light	lightly
well	well
different	differently
anxious	anxiously
quiet	quietly
physical	physically

You usually place adverbs of manner after the main verb, or after the direct object if there is one. The adverb cannot go in between the direct object and the verb.

Incorrect: She ate slowly the cookie.

Correct: She ate the cookie slowly.

Examples:

- I followed your advice about taking things lightly.
- I started behaving differently.
